

SCI ON NODE.JS

In life we always make meetings according to our needs. We make meetings such family meetings, team meetings and so on. As we make meetings we sharing or announcing knowledge or awareness things that were private to public.

The same is true when we use node.js. We are creating databases, files, webs in our PC; when we need to share it to public, to connect to external sources we have to use node.js. For example we may create connections to server and to databases. We may also use module which are used for distribution. Hence meetings are analogous to node.js. And modules are analogous to knowledge and awareness.

At all as we do TM we make confine thing from different consciousness to one level of thing; And gradually distributed to uniform level of things. It is suggested, advised and recommended that to continuously practice TM; to gather and distribute awareness and difficulties uniformly
